DETAILED ACTION

Applicant's arguments filed 6/20/03 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive to overcome the obviousness rejection.

The rejections under 35 U.S.C. 102 have been overcome by applicant's amendment.

Applicant argues that the concurrent oxidation and fixation is unobviously different than the combination of those treatments taught by the two prior art references. The art teaches both methods are useful and in fact useful together- the difference being timing of the steps. Given that both steps are taught and taught to be used in conjunction, it would have been a matter of routine experimentation to optimize the times of application of the processes in the absence of evidence to the contrary.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under

Art Unit: 1651

37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 42, 2-20 & 21-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kim et al(5697972) and McIlroy et al(6093530).

Kim et al(see e.g. Example 2) and McIlroy et al(Col 3, 50-59) teach the oxidative fixation of collagenous tissue alone or in combination with glutaraldehyde fixation.

The prior art clearly teaches that biological proteins such as collagen, fibrin and keratin can be oxidatively cross-linked and that doing so will fix tissue containing said proteins. As the references clearly indicate that the various proportions and amounts of the ingredients used in the claimed method are result effective variables, they would be routinely optimized by one of ordinary skill in the art in practicing the invention disclosed by those references.

It is a well established proposition of patent law that no patentable invention resides in combining old ingredients of known characteristics where the results obtained thereby are no more than the additive effect of the ingredients, i.e. as connective tissue can be cross-linked with glutaraldehyde or oxidatively, using both together would have been obvious at the time the invention was made.

Accordingly, the claimed invention was prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made especially in the absence of evidence to the contrary.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
